WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2, 1886.

MR. EDITOR:—The annual report of the chief of the appointment division of the Post Office Department issued on Wednesday last contains some extremely interesting information upon the subject of changes that have been made in the postoffices. There were 22,747 new postmasters appointed during the last fiscal year, an increase of 13,200 over the previous year. The total number of changes made under the head of removals and suspensions is given at 9,566, an increase of 8,756. Congress will adjourn sine die some time during the present week, but no one is yet able to definitely name the day. The apprehension that the President may veto the oleomargarine bill, and that Congress may try to pass it over the veto, the uncertainty as to the time likely to be consumed by the various committees of conference, indicate that it is doubtful about reaching an adjournment before the latter part of the week.

There are two measures awaiting the signature of the President, concerning the fate of which a great deal of interest is taken by the public. These are the oleomargarine bill and the Morrison joint resolution for the reduction of the surplus. The President has received the oleomargarine bill back from the Attorney General, with an opinion that it is a constitutional measure, but at the same time he states that he has doubts as to the wisdom of passing such a law. The President has not been pressed by the friends of the measure, though he is in constant receipt of protests from its opponents, and there is much conjecture as to what he will do with the bill.

The question as to convict labor which has been so extensively discussed during recent years, is receiving its share of attention from Congress. The Senate on Tuesday, passed the House resolution authorizing and directing the Commissioner of Labor to make a full investigation as to the kind and amount of work performed in the prisons of the various states and territories, and as to all the facts pertaining to convict labor, and the influence of the same upon the industry of the country.

Mr. Wiggins, the Journal Clerk of the House of Representatives has of late been very much annoyed by continual inquiries as to the probable time of adjournment. On Tuesday last he determined to rid himself of the annoyance, and suspended a card from a bronze ornament near his desk, the card reading, "We are unable to say when Congress will adjourn sine die. Please, oh please, do not ask." During two or three days after the card was suspended more than one hundred congressmen and their friends were referred to it by Mr. Wiggins, in answer to their questions. A new card has recently been substituted for the old one, the new card reading—"Congress will have to adjourn sine die on March 4th, 1887."

The improvements which have been in progress during the past few weeks upon the President's recently purchased house, are about completed. The old stone house has been transformed into a modern summer villa, provided with all the modern improvements, while the grounds have been very much improved and ornamented. A large number of building lots in the vicinity have been purchased and several fine residences will be erected during the season.

The resignation of Mr. S. P. Rounds, the Public Printer, has been accepted by the President, and Gen. Rogers, of Buffalo, an old personal friend of Mr. Cleveland, is said to have been named as his successor. JT.

From Kingston.

The following letter was received from Kingston last evening by a prominent business man in this city, who kindly allowed us to publish it:

KINGSTON, N. M., July 28, 1886.
As I thought you might like to know what sort of a town this is, I will write you a few lines. The town is very lively just now, and I think that a man would do pretty well in business here, although there are a good many stores here, some of which are doing very well, while others are not doing so well. The wages paid here are $3.50 per day. Times are very apt to be better here after awhile, but the mines are not very good, and I don't think that they will last, but there is a boom here just at present and it makes things lively, but it will go down again in a short time, as the mines will not last, but they might find some more, and cause another boom. It is very hard to get any property here, that is in the line of houses and lots. The town is building up very rapidly. There are also a good many men at work. It is the best place for business that I have been in for some time. Will let you know of any new developments.
Yours respectfully,
J. MCB.

A Fair Fee.

In the case of T. J. Bidwell's heirs vs. Richard Gird a settlement was made of the matter in dispute by Judge Edmunds of San Francisco who was sitting for Judge Arick at Bakersfield during the July term. Judge Gardner was the administrator of the estate of Thomas J. Bidwell deceased. Bidwell and Richard Gird were for many years intimate friends and associates who finally in the course of their wanderings went to Arizona prospecting for mines. A valuable mine was discovered by third parties and an interest in it was located in the name of Gird. The mine was afterward sold Gird realizing $500,000 for the share standing in his name. In the meantime however Bidwell died and a suit was commenced by his administrator against Gird for one half of the amount realized from the sale of the mine under the claim that Bidwell was an equal partner in the venture. After a stoutly contested trial consuming a great length of time in San Bernardino county which is the residence of all the parties Gird was successful and the heirs who are two young and interesting children were defeated. An appeal was taken however which had not yet been decided when the compromise was effected.

The matter of the estate of Bidwell was transferred from San Bernardino to Kern and Wm. B. Carr was appointed administrator of the estate and it was in the Superior Court there that the compromise was consummated.

The amount paid under the settlement it is said was in the neighborhood of $100,000. Messrs. Stewart & Heron being allowed $25,000 attorney's fees.—L. A. Herald Aug 7.

Gone to China.

The following telegram was received from San Francisco to-day.

Ex-Sheriff Ward returned to his home in Phoenix yesterday.

Dick Gird has settled with the Bidwell heirs, as will be seen from an item in another column.

The appointment for this county and the date of holding primaries will be determined by the County Central Committee to-morrow.

Quite a number of our citizens who have been spending the summer in the East, and in California, are en route home, and quite an influx may be expected at any time now.

Mark Smith, Col. Hafford and Jas. J. Nash, fearing that there might be some trouble with Mexico, and wishing to be good shots, went down the river yesterday and practiced on doves. They returned with very few doves, and awful sore shoulders, and now assert that they won't go to the war.

The choicest beef, pork, mutton and veal can be procured at the Fulton Market, corner of Seventh and Fremont. 8-9f

The heat was very oppressive this afternoon.

Local items are very scarce these days.

Two well known sports left this city this morning for San Diego.

The thermometer climbed up to the 94 degree notch to-day.

Quite a cavalcade of Mexicans arrived in this city to-day from Sonora to purchase goods.

Mr. Macneil and wife of Tombstone occupy one of the Russell cottages. Mr. Macneil is a prominent merchant of this town, and Mrs. Macneil is a lady of culture and refinement.—Santa Monica Wave.

Some joker got a blank telegram to-day and filled it out with the information that the Mexican troops had fired on the United States. Many persons were led to believe that it was the truth. Such jokes as that are neither smart nor sensible.

Judge Street and the attorneys in the case of Hill vs. Le Normand went down to the San Pedro river to examine the dam and the water used by the debt on order to arrive at some definite conclusion as to the rights of the parties to the case now in the Court.

Judge Benson and J. H. Behan, of Tombstone, put up a tent of their own on the beach yesterday, near the East Side Bath Houses. They have furnished it neatly, making it a perfect little palace. The tent is named "B. B."; and, as the owners are both charitably inclined, all those in want of a meal or lodging, who have not the means to pay for it, will find the "balm of Gilead" at the two B's.—Santa Monica Wave.

THE TOMBSTONE felt sure that some of our citizens would get into trouble if they went to San Francisco, and warned them to be very careful and not get shanghaied, and now as will be seen by a telegram in another column, Ed. Clark, the color bearer of Burnside Post, G. A. R., of this city, has been shanghaied and shipped for China. Burke was also captured but he escaped by crawling through a stove pipe hole.

Many of our old citizens will remember an old Frenchman named Joseph Manandras, who had some property on Fourth street and who in 1882 while on a visit to Los Angeles died. When his will was opened it was found that he had bequeathed $150 to the Tombstone Fire Department and $150 to the Tombstone public school but upon inquiry we learn that neither the fire department nor the school fund have ever received the money and think that it is high time some action was done to recover the money.
